ELC News Alert

Issue 5
May/June 2011

President's Message

Dear Friends:

We are now getting very close to the end of the 2011 legislative session and the final agreements on agency budgets, program expenditures and government reorganization are being reached. As you already know we have been particularly concerned about the early learning budget. Following is an update:

School Readiness

We are facing a potential reduction of approximately $60 million, $30 million in Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) federal dollars that have not been restored by the legislature and just over $30 million to make up for last year's reduction in our base allocation that was temporarily covered with ARRA dollars. The impact of these reductions is over 15,000 fewer children served statewide. This reduction may also involve the disenrollment of children, reductions to a number of ELC-funded direct service programs, and other measures that will no doubt impact the quality of our early care and education system - and outcomes for children. This is very, very bad news for Florida's children, working families and for our state's long-term economic development.

Voluntary Pre-Kindergarten

The Senate and House have agreed to reduce administration and program support from 4.5% to 4%. Two years ago the amount was 5%. To be clear, very little of this percentage is used for actual administrative costs. Most of these dollars are used for program supports such as the legislatively mandated client eligibility determination, program monitoring, provider certification and payments. It will be extremely challenging to meet all of the VPK program requirements with just 4% because we must still determine the annual eligibility of over 30,000 children to participate in VPK, certify over 900 child care providers to serve VPK children and receive over $50 million dollars in state funding, and monitor those providers as required by state law.

The most serious concern, however, is the reduction in the base student allocation. This means that early care and education providers will receive less reimbursement per VPK child. As we have seen before, to make up for the loss of dollars to providers, the proposed legislation calls for an increase in class size. Just about every expert - and some non-experts, too - will tell you that packing more four-year-olds into the same classroom is just not a good idea.

The Bottom Line

The bottom line is that there are a number of issues that remain unresolved in the last days of the legislative session. At this point, the leadership in the legislature (Senate President Mike Haridopolos, Senate Budget Chief J.D. Alexander, House Speaker Dean Cannon or House Appropriations Committee Chair Denise Grimsley) will be negotiating many of the final details. There is still time to for these issues to be corrected, so please act on this information as you deem appropriate.

As always I'm at your service.

Sincerely,

Evelio C. Torres
President & CEO

Worthy Wage Day

This year's Worthy Wage Day marks the 20th Anniversary of the Worthy Wage Campaign.

Launched in 1991 by the Center for the Child Care Workforce (CCW), Worthy Wage Day on May 1st resulted from the Worthy Wage Campaign--a grassroots national effort initially intended to last only five years. The Campaign was designed to improve the compensation, professional development opportunities and work conditions for the early care and education workforce.

Many committed and qualified early childhood professionals leave the field each year because of low pay and lack of benefits; as a result many early learning programs are not able to maintain the quality that all children deserve. The Campaign builds alliances among advocates and has created a successful network of stakeholders, families, and locally-based campaigns promoting accessible and affordable high-quality early care and education.

Since 2003, Worthy Wage Day has been coordinated at the national level by the America Federation of Teachers.

The Look Before You Lock Campaign is on a Roll!

The ELC is back on the rails! You may have noticed some Metrorail cars wrapped in very distinctive colors; these cars serve as moving billboards for the Look Before You Lock campaign. Our campaign is designed to remind parents and caregivers that no amount of time is okay to leave a child alone in a car. This is of particular importance here in South Florida where temperatures are already soaring. The moving billboards are accompanied by sun screens and brightly colored Look Before You Lock reminders that parents can hang on their rearview mirror. In addition, an outreach campaign is planned for child care centers. Stay tuned for more details; we will update you once the campaign's hard launch date is finalized.

The Look Before You Lock campaign also has a Facebook fan page, <http://www.facebook.com/home.php#!/pages/Look-Before-You-Lock/109431725808935>. Please visit the page and click on the "like" button and encourage family and friends to do so as well!

Florida's Minimum Wage is $7.31 Effective Summer 2011

Effective June 1, 2011, the minimum wage for Florida is $7.31 per hour. An adjusted minimum wage rate is calculated by AWI each year per Florida law. Employers must pay their employees the hourly state minimum wage for all hours worked in Florida. Additionally, State Statutes also require that employers who must pay their employees the Florida minimum wage must also post a notice with the minimum wage in a conspicuous and accessible location in each establishment where respective employees work. This poster requirement is in addition to the federal requirement to post a notice of the federal minimum wage.

To download posters with the Florida and/or Federal minimum wages in English or Spanish, please visit <http://www.floridajobs.org/minimumwage/index.htm>. Information regarding compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act is also available.

Florida Releases its Employment Figures for March

For March 2011, Florida's Agency for Workforce Innovation (AWI) reported that the State's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate is 11.1 percent which is slightly below the February 2011 rate of 11.5 percent.

While Florida's unemployment figure is still unacceptably high, Governor Rick Scott is encouraged that the rate is the lowest it has been in more than a year, representing an almost one-percent drop since he was sworn in as the State's Governor. Moreover, he is optimistic that the latest decline is evidence of a now three-consecutive-month downward trend in Florida's unemployment.

Team Member Spotlight

Kerry Allen joined the Early Learning Coalition on June 1, 2004. In her current role she serves as the Voluntary Prekindergarten (VPK) regional facilitator for Broward, Dade, Monroe, Collier, Glades, Henry and Lee Counties delivering Florida DOE Training(s) to VPK providers. Kerry assists VPK providers with issues related to quality in classrooms, curriculum, assessment, and learning standards. She also supports teachers in their quest to develop and enhance early literacy skills in young children. "I am very proud that the Coalition operates a model early education program [VPK] that creates a positive impact on early childhood centers and the families they serve," she says.

The impact of Kerry's projects is felt statewide, not only in Miami-Dade and Monroe Counties. Her involvement in one project in particular has been a source of real satisfaction for her, "I was fortunate to participate in the revision of the Cognitive Development Domain in the Florida 4 Year Old Standards which will be released in August of 2011 for both VPK and School Readiness providers."

Prior to her tenure at the Coalition Kerry worked as a Head Start director in Springfield, MA, held two management positions in the Massachusetts Department of Public Welfare, and was employed by Kaplan Early Learning for 13 years. Initially Kerry began her tenure at Kaplan as a sales representative in New York City and the surrounding area, and after a number of years she was promoted to the position of national director of training based in Miami.

Kerry is the vice president of public policy for the South Florida Association for the Education of Young Children (SFAEYC), the local affiliate of the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC). She is also an avid reader; loves old movies, music and swimming; and at one time was quite the skier. As a result of residing in South Florida however, unfortunately she has not had the opportunity to show her stuff on the slopes in the past few years.
