ELC News Alert

Issue 1
January 2012

President's Message

Dear Friends:

The Florida Legislature will be coming together for the 2012 Legislative Session beginning on January 10. This year will come with its own set of challenges, including a $2 billion dollar budget shortfall and the very complicated redistricting discussions.

As you know, Governor Scott and the Florida Chamber supported Florida's Race to the Top application. Although Florida was not awarded the grant, we fully anticipate that the Governor and the business community will continue to support our collective efforts to improve Florida's early care and education system. Our challenge is to make sure all members of the legislature understand the benefits, costs and return on investment of a high-quality early education. We can do this by continuing our legislative advocacy and education efforts. Please make sure you remain involved and take advantage of the legislative advocacy trainings. Information on the 2011 Session can be found on the Legislative Updates section of our website.

Sincerely,

Evelio C. Torres
President & CEO
Early Learning Coalition of Miami-Dade/Monroe

Change a Child's Life through the Guardian ad Litem Program

The Florida Guardian ad Litem (GAL) Program, a partnership of community advocates and professional staff, is looking for volunteers to advocate on behalf of Florida's abused and neglected children.

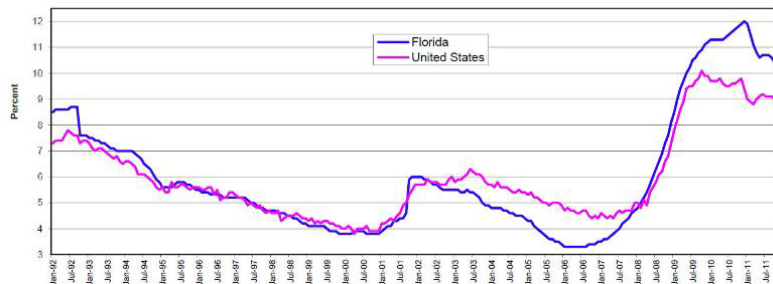

A GAL is a volunteer appointed by the court to protect the rights and advocate the best interests of a child involved in a court proceeding. Volunteers are individuals who respect a child's inherent right to grow up with dignity in a safe environment that meets the child's best interests and who assure that the child's best interests are represented in the court at every stage of the case. There are no special qualifications required of those who wish to volunteer, only concern for the well-being of children and a continued commitment to advocate for a child until they obtain a place in a safe and permanent home.

Please watch the 2-minute Public Service Announcement and then visit <http://guardianadlitem.org/> to learn more about becoming a volunteer. Your care and concern may change a child's world for the better.

RIF Book Distributions Bring Out Guest Readers

In December, the Early Learning Coalition and Reading Is Fundamental collaborated to bring free books to children all across Miami-Dade and Monroe counties. Through this program, we will deliver more than 87,000 books to 28,288 children at more than 400 sites across both counties.

On December 8, the children and staff of AcadeMir Preschool in Miami welcomed Latin Grammy Winner Melina Leon and Premio Lo Nuestro Nominee J'Martin to read stories with them. Both stars gave impromptu performances to those present. On December 14, Ana Patricia Gonzalez, Nuestra Belleza Latina 2010, visited Camp Carnival Child Development Center in Doral. The VPK class at Camp Carnival joined her in reading "Muy Bien Ferguson." Despierta America, a morning talk show on Univision, taped a segment to air on the show.

Thank You to both centers for opening their doors to the Early Learning Coalition. A special thank you for being our partners in promoting early literacy initiatives like Reading Is Fundamental.

Help Bring Wireless Technology into the Classroom

Join The Foundation for New Education Initiatives in its effort to bring wireless technology into classrooms. Everyone in Miami-Dade has an opportunity to provide wireless connectivity to all students. The "Bring Wireless to the Classroom" fundraising campaign will require $70 million in donations in order to connect the 340 schools in the county. Through the federal E-Rate program, which matches 10:1 for every dollar raised, this is an achievable goal. The goal is to raise $7 million by January 31, 2012. Through the generosity of donors, $2 million have already been collected.

Now is your chance to help achieve this goal. Visit the donation page and encourage your friends, colleagues, and family to give. Together we can help The Foundation make this dream a reality for students, transform classrooms and bridge the digital divide in our community. Visit www.helpdadeschools.net for more information.

Children's Movement of Florida

Legislative Agenda for 2012 Set

As an organization that strives to make children the first priority for all Floridians, The Children's Movement is encouraging the Florida Legislature to make strategic investments in five key areas.

- Parent skill-building
- Screening for special needs
- Voluntary Prekindergarten
- Healthcare
- Mentoring

Since 2011, the cost associated with their agenda has been significantly reduced. Investing in these areas will brighten the futures of countless children. The Children's Movement, along with parents and childcare providers, can help make sure this happens.

For more information on the work of The Children's Movement, including the 2012 Legislative Agenda, please visit their website. New volunteer opportunities are also available -- providing more of Florida's children with access to health insurance and ensuring that more children are reading at grade level by third grade. For information on volunteering, please visit <http://childrensmovementflorida.org/volunteer>.

Team Member Spotlight

student teachers.

When Trina Rodriguez joined the team at the Early Learning Coalition in April 2007, her 10 years in banking were not a setback. She jokes that working with her "adult" clients was much like working with children. She went back to school in her late 20s, obtaining a bachelor's degree in Early Childhood Education from the University of North Dakota. For Trina, education has meant the difference between a job and a fulfilling career. She worked at the University Children Center located on the UND campus, serving as both a teacher and mentor/supervisor to

As a Classroom Mentor for the Lower Keys, Trina provides information and guidance in developmentally appropriate practices and curriculum implementation, models lesson plans, designs workshops and provides resources and ideas regarding legislative issues to guide directors and staff to clarify goals and track center progress. The most rewarding part of her job is "seeing teachers become the best they can be and seeing them get excited about teaching the kids in their classrooms."

Trina believes it's all worthwhile as long as she can make an impact in one person's life. One time, a surprise "Thank You" party was planned for her at a center, proving she is working toward (and achieving) her goal. In her free time, Trina loves reading books and going out on the boat with her husband Rico. Shopping is another passion of hers, one in which she claims she excels.
